Add necessary features for eBay

This screenshot is identical to the one above, showing the same product detail screen for a Katana sword. The product image, data fields, and bottom buttons are all the same.

Save these changes

A modal dialog titled "Add Feature" is displayed. It contains two sets of input fields for "Name of Feature" and "Value", each with "Quantity" and "Quality" dropdowns. A green "SAVE" button is at the bottom right of the modal.

Save the features

A modal dialog titled "eBay" displays a message: "Katana has been added to eBay's marketplace." The background of the modal is light green, matching the app's theme.
